To the Honorable Justices of the Supreme Judicial Court, Robbins at Bangor, within and for the County of Penobscot on the first Tuesday of April, 1876.

The undersigned, a real lest of Bangor, libels and informs this Honorable Court that she was married to Charles F Bump, of said Bangor, on the 25th day of January, 1874, by a Justice of the Peace, and that ever since she has behaved herself as a faithful wife, but that said libelee, unmindful of his marital obligations has since lived in adultery, contracted habits of intemperance and become a common drunkard, and for the last year has spent his time and money for liquor, compelling libelant to support herself. She further says that he has within the last year deserted her, going to parts unknown to libelant, without the knowledge of libelant, and that she has made reasonable diligence to ascertain the libelee's residence but could not.

THURSDAY, SEPT. 30, 1875.

THE BAY STATE AROUSED.

The Republican delegates of the Old Bay State in the Convention at Worcester, Wednesday, proved worthy of the confidence reposed in them by their constituencies, of the hopes of earnest Republicans throughout the country, and equal to the demands of the occasion. The report of their harmonious and wise proceedings will carry dismay and demoralization into the Democratic camp while it arouses the Republican spirit of the glorious old Commonwealth to wipe out the blunders of last year by an overwhelming victory.

That Massachusetts is a thoroughly Republican State, the election of a Democratic Governor last year under extraordinary circumstances and in a canvass which gave a large average majority to the Republican State ticket caused no well-informed person to doubt. It needed only that the best representatives of Republicanism should come to the front, put forward unexceptionable candidates, and proclaim sound doctrines, to assure an old-time victory.

It has been evident from the expressions brought out in the canvass, judging no less by the insidious comments of the Democratic and so-called Independent press than by the opinions of the most influential Republican journals, that the nomination of Hon. Alexander H. Rice was the strongest which could be made, and the very decisive vote by which he was made the Republican standard-bearer guarantees the heartiness with which he will be supported. While a number of estimable persons sincerely favored the choice of Hon. Charles Francis Adams, it was evident that his nomination was also encouraged by the Democrats whose wishes it is always safe to disregard. The organs of that party were all ready to characterize his selection as a virtual disbandment of the distinctive Republican organization, the Post complacently remarking as follows on the morning of the Convention:

> The Worcester gathering to-day will show a disrespect sentiment among the Republicans, to the effect of possibly compelling them to outside of the party to make their leading nomination. A step like that would proclaim that the party in Massachusetts is at an end.

The Convention did not "go outside of the party" either in the selection of its leading candidate or in imitation of the Democracy, by filling out the State ticket from the ranks of the opposition. Both the Boston Journal and Advertiser, which together represent the Republicanism of Massachusetts, have urged the nomination of Mr. Rice in preference to Mr. Adams or any other gentleman named, and his Republicanism is as unquestioned as his abilities and integrity. The Advertiser puts aside the assumption that Mr. Adams "has any advantages over Mr. Rice as a candidate of the Republican party, or that in the event of his election he would do more or better service in the way of political reform than Mr. Rice would do." On the contrary, it declares that Mr. Rice, "more than any other candidate named, represents the political integrity and the working strength of the Republican party of the State;" and that, in the coarest now opening, "the other nomination would bring equal strength to the state ticket, or so certainly insure a spirited and successful canvass." The Republicans have fearlessly accepted the challenge of their opponents and have brought forward a standard-bearer who will sweep the Gaston ticket from the field.

The platform of principles is worthy of the nominee and of the party, as it could not fail to be when drawn by such men as Hon. Henry L. Dawes, Hon. Geo. F. Hoar and their colleagues in the committee. It is sound to the core on the finances, clear and explicit in favor of honesty, integrity and economy, unequivocal in opposing a third term for any President, equally frank in recognizing the debt we owe to the firmness and integrity of President Grant and ready to welcome all tendencies toward reconciliation between the sections on the basis of national obedience to the law and common share in the blessings of good government. It very justly characterizes the complacent fulmination of Republican doctrines and appropriation of Republicans for candidates by the Democratic party, as the most signal evidence of the power of Republican principles, and it audibly claims that the glory of our past achievements is more likely to be sustained by those who fought for them than by those who unsuccessfully opposed and now seek to obtain all the credit of champions.

The Republicans of the Bay State Convention have performed their work well, and from now until election we expect to see such a rallying of the tried and true men of the Commonwealth, as will put a final seal upon the attempts at Democratic restoration in that quarter.

TRADE REVIVING.

The Rencelaer Journal says the revival of business so long looked for appears to have begun at last. The newspapers of Boston and New York speak confidently of it. Even the New York World, which usually looks on the dark side, has a very encouraging tone. In a lengthy editorial it says: "Upon the whole the outlook is most gratifying for a healthy revival of trade throughout the country—not such forced activity as would lead to wild speculation, over-trading and extravagance—but a regular, steady, legitimate and growing business, based on the actual wants of the community, defrayed by the products of the soil, the work and labor of the people and the income from accumulated capital."

"That very nasty little paper the Anson Advocate, starts out this week with the laboriously false statement that the correctness of Democratic figures placing Gen. Connor's majority at some three hundred less than the returns make it, is "now conceded by the Republican papers." It follows this up with seven different paragraphs of equally untruthful and impertinent abuse of Mr. Blaine. The buzzing of these "gad-flies" must be amusing to that gentleman, if, indeed, he notices their existence. Here is the Bangor Commercial, which had Mr. Blaine in Ohio and back within two days, sow investing him with the editorship of the Portland Press, and gravely calling him to account for the utterances of that paper. With the Commercial "Blaineism" seems to be a series of political delirium tremens, and the editor sees nothing but Blaine when awake and at night dreams that Blaine is about to pounce upon him over the floor-board. The Dexter Gazette is unfortunately correct when it says: "Money don't like Blaine, at that," for he has been terribly severe to him ever since that little affair in connection with the Peck trouble."

A HIGH SHERIFF.

Hon. F. A. Pike of Calais, who has been elected to the Legislature, is entitled to be a Republican by one of our Washington county Republican papers, on the ground that he recently declared himself "An good a Republican as he ever was;" while on the other hand the Bangor Democrat gives him a certificate of orthodoxy in the Democratic camp, on the more substantial ground that "He has voted the straight Democratic ticket for three years." The question reduces itself to this: "Is a man better known by his professions or by his acts?" An exchange reminds us that many of the bitterest Democrats call themselves "True Republicans," very much in the same manner that Judas took great pains to profess friendship for the Savior by a kiss, when he was contacting his death. Perhaps, however, as it is reported, Mr. Pike joined acts to professions by this year voting the Republican ticket. However this may be, we regard Mr. Pike as one of the able men of the State Senate, whose presence in the Legislature will be of great public service.—Lewiston Journal.

Are we to understand from the above that our Lewiston contemporary regards the presence of "able Judases" in the Legislature as conducive to the public welfare? It seems to say so.

The Boston Five-cent Savings Bank has reduced the rate of interest to five per cent. because it is found impracticable to invest the funds of the bank at a rate of interest which will ensure sufficient net earnings to pay six per cent. This does not look like a scarcity of money.

The two articles by Gen. J. H. Wilson, the cavalry leader, in the September and October Galaxy review Gen. Sherman's memoirs candidly but not altogether favorably, declaring that he cannot be placed the highest rank among the great captains of the world, or even of our own country; that neither his judgment nor his courage is of the highest order, and that they are not in harmonious equilibrium. Gen Wilson further contends that Sherman is not the equal of Grant in judgment or courage though he excels him in brilliancy; that he is inferior to Thomas in steadiness and resolution, far surpassed by Sheridan in courage, and excelled by Upton as a soldier and general student of the military art. Finally, the critic concludes that the Memoirs will cause their author to be assigned a lower place than might otherwise have fallen to his lot.

The Portland Press is informed that the business of the Maine Central the past three months has been better than during the corresponding months of 1874, and that the road is earning sufficient money above its running expenses to easily pay the interest on its obligations. This is certainly very encouraging in view of the fact that everything beyond in the country has had its business fall off in consequence of the depression. One reason of this may be that the management of the road has not for a long time been so much disposed to accommodate the public and to attend to public wants, as it is now, under the wise administration of President Abner Coburn. —Lewiston Journal.

REV. DR. ENOCH POND, The Thirteenth Volume of Appleton's American Cyclopedia, just issued, contains the following biographical sketch and a list of the numerous works of the venerable and distinguished theologian who has so long resided in our city:

Enoch Pond, an American clergyman, born in Wrentham, Mass., July 29, 1791. He graduated at Brown University in 1813, studied theology with Dr. Emmons, of Franklin, was licensed to preach in June, 1814, and was ordained pastor of the Congregational church in Ward (now Auburn), Mass., March 1, 1815. In 1823, he became professor of the "Spirit of the Pilgrims," an orthodox monthly publication, just established in Boston, which bore an important part in what is known as the "great Unitarian controversy." After editing five volumes of this work, he became, in September, 1833, professor of systematic theology, in the seminary at Bangor, Me. In 1850, he resigned this chair, and became president, professor of ecclesiastical history and lecturer on pastoral duties. Since 1870 he has been president and emeritus professor. His lectures have been published under the titles, "Pastoral Theology," (8vo., 1849); "Christian Theology," (8vo., 1853); and "History of God's Church," (8vo., 1874). The two last named works have passed through several editions, and he has also published "Plain, His Life, Works, Opinions and Influence" (1840); "Swedenborgianism Reviewed (1846; revised ed., with enlargement, "Swedenborgianism" (1851); "The Ancient Church" (1851); memoirs of President Samuel Davies, Susanna Anthony, Count Zinzendorf, Wycliffe, John Knox, and the Rev. Harrison Fairfield; a "Life of Increase Mather of Salem and William Phipps" (1847); a "Prize Essay on Congregationalism" (1857) &c. He edited Norton's "Life of John Cotton" (1832-4).

Up-River Items.

Our correspondent Nopen writes from Winn September 28: Your correspondent was unfortunately prevented by business from attending the Fair held at Molton on September 23 and 24, except the afternoon of the 24. It was said the exhibition of cattle was a good one on the 23d. I am indebted to Mr. Frank Holland, the Secretary, for particulars of the exhibition. There were twenty entries of oxen and 4 cows, 10 entries of bulls, 100 of cows and heifers, 37 of sheep, mostly Cotswold grade, 24 of horses and roadsters, 44 of draft horses. The largest entry of stock, medium quality, was made by E. Merritt & Sons, 24 entries; Wentworth Fall, of Houlton, showed the best Dutch grade stock, 12 entries, which he calls Fall's improved; among his stock were three three-years old steers weighing 2,220 pounds, and a pair of yearlings weighing 2,010 pounds. John R. Weed, of Littleton, showed 8 head of Durham grade; Charles E. Gilman, of Houlton, showed the largest number of Jersey stock; George F. Slipp, of Houlton, exhibited a short horned bull and heifer, which he had bought at an expense of $900. The Secretary exhibited a short horn bull, two years old; Wm. P. Kinney, of Houlton, and Zephaniah Parks, of Hodgdon, took large premiums on cattle; George McGinley, of Houlton, took the premium on matched, draft and road horses; John R. Slipp took the premium for best breeding mare and family horse; Dudley Shields, of Linneus, took the premium for best draft horses; Cyrus Dale was awarded premium for best English thoroughbred; John Hagan, of New Limerick, exhibited some very nice two and three years old colts; John E. Slipp and Wm. P. Kinney were the principal exhibitors of sheep. The principal exhibitors of fruit were Wm. Hovey and Wm. P. Kinney, of Houlton, and William Bell, of Hodgdon. A large and fine variety of apples were exhibited. There were forty entries of poultry. The entries in other departments were varied and numerous. A fine address was delivered at the close of the Fair by Rev. R. R. McLeod, of Houlton.

The New Limerick starch factory commenced work the 21st of this month. Geo. H. Hartford has built a starch factory at Bridgewater, on Whitney Brook, and commenced manufacturing on the 2d instant. On this stream is a cheese factory, cooper shop, saw mill and tannery. The tannery firm at New Limerick is Q. & W. J. Shaw. There are 400 cases on the docket of the Court at Houlton; and 324 are now ready. The householders are being thoroughly examined before the Grand Jury. Judge Virgin will probably adjourn Court by the 2d of October, in order to go to Machias.

F. Shaw Bros., of Kingman, have had a large force at work clearing out the rips at the foot of the Drew Dead Water, one mile above the tannery. A channel sixty feet wide has been cleared out, making dead water from the dam at Kingman to near the railway bridge at Bancroft. Next season they propose to run boats to bring down bark to their tannery, and contemplate clearing the river of logs as far as Ledge Falls, ten miles further up, and eventually to clear out and run logs as above the Forks, or Haynesville, on both the East and West branches.

It is suggested that the Mattawamkeag Log Driving Co. may find it more convenient and less expensive to let their logs run by Kingman and hold them in the dead water below, and turn them out at Gordon's Falls instead of at the foot of Drew dead water, as the clearing of the rips will allow the logs to run by with little or no attention. One mind on it one rips now will do the work of six or ten who were formerly kept through the driving season. By holding the logs below Kingman it will enable F. Shaw Bros. to run their boats at all times, and it will be a great convenience to the steam mill of S. H. Boyd and will allow F. Shaw Bros. to get down their timber and cedar without delay and hindrance.

Mr. Cummings, residing two miles out on road towards Mattawamkeag, has opened his house and named it the Haynesville House.

O. Newhouse, who has been in business at Haynesville, will soon remove to Houlton.

A temperance revival is reported in Milltown, Calais.

DOMESTIC NEWS.

CALIFORNIA.

Affairs of the Suspended Bank.

NEW YORK, Sept 29. A San Francisco special states that Mr. Mills says the Bank of California will probably resume business shortly The executive committee have made a thorough and searching inquiry into the business of the bank, and they have in their hands 14,000,000 of unquestionable assets with $6,000,000 more from which the bank will doubtless realize other millions, while the liabilities of the bank at first believed to be $13,000,000 have dwindled down to $4,000 000. In ten years the bank has earned $7,250,000.

ILLINOIS.

Ham's Open Letter.

CHICAGO, Sept 29 Charles E Ham, on coins appraiser in this port, who, without notice, has been removed from office, this morning publishes an open letter to Secretary of the Treasury, Bristow, in which while asserting that repeated investigations only confirm the honest and correctness of his management, he makes serious charges against the Secretary for covering up frauds in the New York Custom House, and says the report of Mr Hodgett, ...ining monstrous frauds which honey-combed the customs service of New York was suppressed, and the author of it not permitted to return to New York to continue the reform he had inaugurated, but was remanded to the routine of General Appraisers of the port of Philadelphia. The friends of Bristow here assert that Ham was removed because of the criticisms of the Inter-Ocean on Bristow to which Ham was editorially a contributor.

IOWA.

Reunion of the Army of the Tennessee

DES MOINES, Sept. 29. The annual reunion of the Army of the Tennessee assembled here Thursday. A number of old men are now here. President Grant, General Sherman and Secretary Belknap will arrive this morning. The city is profusely decorated with flags and evergreen. The annual oration will be delivered by ex-Governor Fletcher of Missouri to-night and a banquet will be had Thursday night.

THE BLACK HILLS.

No Progress with the Contemplated Treaty.

NEW YORK, Sept. 29. A Red Cloud Agency despatch of the 27th states that the Commissioner went to the council grounds this morning under a strong military escort and also with an Indian guard. No apprehensions need be entertained now as Little Big Man has been suppressed by the friendly Indians. The council was opened by Red Cloud who presented Red Dog as his spokesman. Red Dog is the orator of the Ogallalas. The next speaker was Little Bear of the Minneconjous. He indicated the conclusion of the Indians that by the sale of the Hills they are to be cared for handsomely for all time. Spotted Tail followed Little Bear. He put a power to the Commissioners by asking to have Nebraska moved South. The Chief wanted an answer at once which of course could not be given. The Commissioners are unanimous not to consider the demand made which was for the payment of $2,500,000 a year for an indefinite period. They will attend another council to-morrow and then withdraw and see what the Great Father had to say. Two of the Commissioners, Ashby and Lawrence with their clerk, will remain to deliver the horses promised to Young Man Afraid of his Horses. On the same day the rest of the Commission will be en route for home with Lieut. Vernon, as escort.

Republican Convention!

A SPLENDID GATHERING!

VICE-PRESIDENT WILSON IN THE CHAIR!

An Invincible Ticket Nominated!

HON. A. H. RICE FOR GOVERNOR!

A Sound and Ringing Platform!

THE COMMONWEALTH TO BE REDEEMED!

Organization of the Convention.

WORCESTER, Sept. 29. The Convention was called to order at 11.30 by Col. W. W. Clapp of the Boston Journal, who read the call. He said it had been thought best to dispense with a temporary organization, and on motion of Mr. Bowker of Boston, a Committee of one from each county was appointed on permanent organization. On motion of Lieut. Gov. Joseph Tucker of Berkshire, a Committee of one from each county was appointed, and on motion of H. L. Dawes of Pittsfield, a Committee of 3 members at large one from each Congressional District was appointed to prepare and report such resolutions as were deemed proper for the Convention to adopt.

The appearance of Mr. Dawes was greeted with hearty applause. Mr. Putnam of Blackstone, got the floor and offered a resolution indicating that there was a crisis in the party; that there should be arduous work done and calling on the State Central Committee for wise ways and means not only to secure a large majority but an overwhelming one at the next election After some discussion it was referred to the Committee on resolutions. The Committee on permanent organization Horace L. Bowker, Boston; Frederic Wildcomb Ipswich; E P. Rindge, Cambridge, Stephen Shepley, Fitchburg; Henry Alexander, Jr., Springfield; D. W. Bond, Northampton; Matthew Chapman, Greenfield, John H. Coffin, Great Barrington; F. A. Hobart, Braintree; W. S. Danforth, Braintree, Charles T. Bonney, New Bedford; Erastus Chase, Harwich; Charles Bradley, Tisbury; F. W. Calder, Nantucket, then reported the following list of officers

President, Vice-President Wilson; Vice-Presidents Ensign H. Kellogg of Pittsfield, Liberty D. Packard of Rockport, C. Rice of Worcester, Charles W. Clifford of New Bedford, C. U. Fitz of Chelsea; Secretaries, George S. Merrill of Lawrence, Ebenezer Nelson of Boston, John S. Baldwin of Worcester.

Committee on Credentials—W. T. Hall, Revere, Alpheus Currier, Haverhill, John B. Smithers, Cambridge, George W. Johnson, Brookville; S. S. Taft, Palmer; Samuel P. Billings, Hatfield; A. D. Lowell, Shelburne, Joseph Tucker, Pittsfield, Horace E Ware, Milton; E. E. Dean, Brocton; John A. Hawes, Fairhaven; Frances A. Nye, Falmouth; J. W. Coffin, Edgartown; David Folger, Nantucket.

Committee on resolutions: At large, the Hon. H. L. Dawes, Chairman; the Hon. George F. Hoar, Worcester; Walter Allen, Boston; Congressional District No. 1, J. B. D. Cogswell, Yarmouth; No. 2, John D. Long, Hingham; No. 3, A. W. Beard, Boston, No. 4 George S. Hale, Boston; No. 5, William T. Greenman, Woburn; No. 6, Robert Couch, Newburyport; No. 7. E. G Winslow Newton; No. 8, Estes Howes, Cambridge No. 9, A. A. Putnam, Blackstone; No. 10, Levi Stockbridge, Amherst; No. 11, Charles O. Chapin, Springfield.

Committee on ballots, Henry D. Hyde, Boston; N. C. Munson, Shirley; W. K. Jones, Boston; James Kuhbail and Wm. Wells Brown, Cambridge; Milo Hildreth, Northborough, Thomas Cardis, Longmeadow; E. H. Sawyer, Easthampton; E. L. Waters, Orange; John Z. Goodrich, Stockbridge; H. O. Hildreth, Dedham; J. E. Crane, Bridgewater, W. C. Lovering, Taunton; Isaac N. Keith, Sandwich; B. P. Hillman, Chilmark and W. H. Waite, Nantucket.

Vice-President Wilson Takes the Chair

The chair then appointed Messrs. E W. Kingsley of Boston, Geo. T Davis of North Andover and Estes Howe of Cambridge, a Committee to conduct the President to the chair which duty they performed. The advent of Vice-President Wilson was hailed with loud and prolonged applause which was renewed when he was presented to the Convention by Mr Clapp On motion of Mr Underwood of Boston, the State Central Committee and the Senators and Representatives in Congress were invited to take seats in the Convention. Rev. Mr. Lampson of Worcester, invoked the Divine Blessing.

Mr. Wilson then addressed the Convention. The speech was not, on the whole, received with much warmth, though when Mr. Wilson spoke his convictions in favor of hard money there was hearty applause. The closing words of advice were also received with some tokens of approbation. As Mr. Wilson sat down there was a burst of applause which lasted several minutes.

Motion for a Formal Ballot Lost

On motion of Henry D. Hyde, of Boston, a committee on receiving and counting ballots was appointed, consisting of one from each County. Mr. Hyde moved that when the vote for Governor was taken it be by Counties; the motion was adopted. Mr. E. W Kingsley, of Boston moved that the Convention proceed to ballot for a candidate for Governor. Hon. Isaac S. Morse, of Cambridge, moved that the Convention proceed to an informal ballot for Governor. Mr. Potter, of Framingham, moved, as an amendment, that the Convention proceed to a formal ballot. The question was taken on the amendment and it was declared lost. The motion of Mr. Morse, for an informal ballot, was then adopted.

Hon. Geo. F. Hoar, of Worcester, said he had a proposition to make concerning the State Central Committee for the ensuing year, and he moved that the delegates from the Senatorial Districts assemble at their conveniences and propose a candidate to represent each District and further, that the President nominate two additional members from each District, to constitute the State Central Committee for the ensuing year. Mr. Slack, of Boston, objected, and Mr. Hoar withdrew his motion.

One Thousand and Seventy-four Delegates Present.

The informal balloting was then begun, at 20 minutes of 1 o'clock. While the ballot was being taken the Committee on Credentials reported that 1,084 delegates were present, representing 428 cities and towns. At half past one o'clock the ballot was closed, and the Convention took a recess for half an hour.

Hiss Ahead on the Informal Ballot.

The Convention met at 3 o'clock, and the committee on counting ballots reported, through Mr. Hyde, as follows: Whole number of votes cast, 1068; John E. Sanford, 18; Thomas Talbot, 11; Everett Washburne, 1; Chas. Devens, 2; E. R. Hoar, 2; E. F. Slatter, 4; Jas. D. Colt, 1; George B. Rickmond, 1; Henry M. Clark, 1; C. F. Adams, Jr., 1; Harvey Jewell, E. B. Gillette, 1; P. A. Chadbourne, 5; H. L. Pierce, 97; G. F. Loring, 853; A. H. Rice, 393; C. F. Adams, 236.

Mr. Henry B. Blackwell offered the following which was received with mingled laughter and applause:

The Republican party of Massachusetts reaffirms to-day all the great progressive principles heretofore contained in its platform and are still heartily in favor of efficient and enlightened legislation in behalf of temperance, of hard money and of the equal rights of all American citizens irrespective of sex. Referred to the Committee on Resolutions.

The First Formal Ballot.

The result of the first formal ballot is as follows: Whole number of votes cast, 1068; necessary for a choice, 535; H. L. Pierce, 97; Alex. H. Rice, 393; Henry L. Pierce, 84; Chas. F. Adams, 200; Geo. B. Loring, 253; Alexander H. Rice, 267; scattering, 25. No choice.

Third Ballot—Hon. Alexander H. Rice Receives the Nomination.

Another ballot was immediately ordered, and it proceeded amid great confusion and the rallying calls of the active workers. The result of the third formal ballot was as follows: Whole number of votes, 1068; necessary to a choice, 535; H. L. Pierce had 95; Geo. B. Loring 39; Chas. F. Adams, 249; Alex. H. Rice, 567; and Mr. Rice, was declared nominated.

The Result Applauded.

Loud applause greeted the announcement of the result and was followed by three cheers. Col. Taylor, of Somerville, moved that the nomination be made unanimous, complimenting Mr. Rice as a sound Republican and good business man. The motion was seconded by Mr. Goodrich, of Berkshire, and the motion prevailed, with a few dissenting votes.

The Republican Platform.

The Committee on resolutions have agreed on the following: The representatives of Massachusetts in Convention assembled reaffirm their allegiance to the great purposes and principles of the Republican party. They congratulate themselves that nothing in the record makes it necessary for them to give pledges that they accept and will abide by the settlement of the war issues made in the 13th, 14th and 15th Amendments to the Constitution of the United States, and they congratulate the country that the Democratic party has at last formally professed to abandon its long, bitter, desperate, but unavailing struggle, first to prevent and afterwards to overturn that settlement. This profession is both the most humiliating confession of past folly ever extorted from a political organization and a signal if there is invincible righteousness of Republican principles.

The accusation that the Republican party seeks to keep alive old issues in order to avoid new ones is unwarranted. Our past at least is secure. Able to review the record without remorse, we cheerfully commit it to history, and with the courage inspired by our success in a noble cause, we address ourselves to the new duties of the new era of the nation. It is therefore declared that the Republican party of Massachusetts will support no man for official position whose personal character is not an absolute guarantee of fidelity to every public trust, and they invoke the condemnation of the ballot-box upon any candidate for office who fails of this test, whatever may be his party name or endorsement

That for reform in the civil service—a work which no party can give over or slacken, and for the elevation and purification of that service the Republican party will continue by all faithful active means opening the co-operation of their opponents in whatever quarter it may appear, to the end that every corrupt and unworthy office-holder without distinction of party may be driven from his place and that official malfeasance may be pointed and punished wherever the pursuit may lead or the blow fall.

That the Republicans of Massachusetts in the administration of State affairs recognize no privilege, no antagonism between labor and capital, but deprecating any attempt to arbitrarily fetter either, whether on the part of employed or employer, will support such measures as shall develop the resources of labor and of capital alike, stimulating one and diffusing the other into channels of common prosperity; as also all measures that regard the promotion of temperance, education, good morals, and the equal rights of all American citizens irrespective of sex, the maintenance of order, the honest enforcement of existing laws, rigid economy and retrenchment in every department of the Government of the Commonwealth and the reduction of taxation.

That the reduction of the nation's expenditures during the last fiscal year by more than $12,000,000 following a similar reduction during the whole period of the present administration is a gratifying proof of the earnest endeavors of the Republican party by economy, frugality and fidelity in the public service to lighten the public burden

That the President of the United States is entitled to the gratitude of the country for the independence, courage and good sense with which in an urgent crisis of affairs he has assumed the great responsibilities of his office and maintained the National honor and credit.

That the Republican party falls with exceeding joy the many evidences of reconciliation in spirit and purpose as well as of peace in fact, which have taken the place of disorder, and disturbance in the restored States and makes haste to testify its anxiety to meet reconciliation with confidence, and every proof of peace with proof of affection and regard.

That we have no more earnest desire than that our brethren at the South without distinction or exception of race or party may enjoy to the fullest extent those inestimable blessings to which we owe all our own prosperity, universal freedom and security of personal rights under ideal self-governments, without the necessity of any interference from abroad

That the Republicans of Massachusetts welcome all inquiries and evidences that the centennial of American independence will be celebrated by the complete restoration of fraternity, and they express the opinion that the time has come for the removal of all remaining political disabilities.

That sound reason, as well as the wise and unbroken usage of the Republic, illustrated by the example of Washington, require that the tenure of the Chief Magistrate of the United States should not exceed a second term.

That the National Government is sacredly bound, by the interest of the common welfare and good faith and by the light of all experience and history, to fulfill its promises by the speediest possible return to specie payments.

That an irredeemable currency is an national evil and, when it continues beyond the necessity of its creation, a nation's reproach.

That the demoralization of values, caused by the inflation of the National currency, while it tends to place the earnings of labor, which depend on the steadiness and uniformity in the measure of values, in the power of speculators in gold and credit, also involves the demoralization of public and private conduct, credit and expenditure, speculation in place of thrift, ultimate prostration of trade and undue risk of incurring crime and dishonor, and the whole train of evils which follow any departure from the homely ritual that keeps its word and pays as it goes

That while we gladly count among the most significant assurances of the good work of the Republican party, its regenerating influence upon our Democratic fellow citizens as shown in the bitterness of their recent conventions in the ballot in their nurseries of free labor, the Constitutional results of Republican statesmanship, and their nomination to office of men trained in Republican teachings and service, we protest that it would be the height of imprudence to commit all that has been achieved for the Union, for freedom and human rights to the keeping of a party which has no heart for the work and has no share in the victory.

The resolutions were unanimously adopted without discussion.

The Other Nominations

On motion of Mr. Witcomb, of Ipswich, Horatio G. Knight was unanimously nominated, by acclamation for Lt-Governor.

Moses Kimball, of Boston, moved that Chas. Endicott, of Canton, be nominated by acclamation for State (Treasurer. Mr. Morse, of Canton, one ...ed the nomination and the motion was carried unanimously.

Peter Butterfield, of Ayer, moved the nomination of W. L. Clark by acclamation as Auditor, and the motion prevailed unanimously.

On motion of Major J. W. Mahan, of Boston, Charles A. Frith was nominated by acclamation for Attorney-General.

On mot on of Gen. Cogswell, a ballot was taken for Secretary of State with the following result: Whole number of votes cast 1061 necessary to a choice 531; Henry B. Peirce, 453; Wm. H. Knox, 584; Oliver Palmer, 27. Mr. Pierce was declared the candidate and cheers.

FALLOW.

Great fields of grain lie! Silence fill,
The golden stuff bends down the trees,
The grass stands high round shoulders' knees,
The bee pants through the clover beds,
And cannot rest half the heads,
The farmer stands with musing eyes,
And counts his harvest's growing size

A rose the fields so fair to see,
He looks, but makes no note of me
He had task upon the hill,
Content and idle, idle still.
My lazy silence never stirred
My heedless bed or hungry bird,
All creatures know the cribs which yield
No creature seeks the fallow field

But to no field on all the hill
Come ass and rain with more good will,
All scents which they bear and bring
To clover turning purple-red,
The grass in blooms or showers' treates
They whisper to my idle hours,
Yet never abide my wasted powers

Winter is near, and snow is sweet,
Who knows of the's be seeds of wheat
Or tares on which my bosom fell?
Who knows how many summers will
Be spent before one worthy thing
Is ready for my harvesting?

And after all it all were lost
Into sure balances and weighed,
What knower of all the grain and seed
On which hot human hearts are set,
Do heretofore mark the droughts and dearth
The light which falls in the heart of earth
Must be no I want in God's great hand,
A peasant bit of fallow land."

FALL FEED

The time has come for the farmers to decide whether they will leave the September and October growth of grass on the ground, or use it by mowing or feeding it. Most of our agricultural teachers say leave it. When there is nothing more important on hand I would like to thought the New England Farmer, to ask them a few questions first—Does not the growth of grass in New England during the months of September and October on an average, amount to one-tenth part of the growth of the season? Second—Is not this the cream of the growth? that is worth more by a pound to feed than any other growth of the season. My experience leads me to think it is, and I think the following statement, taken from the New England Farmer of June 1, gives a scientific reason why it is —

EARLY CUT GRASS BEST.—The German papers publish details of a series of experiments carried on at the agricultural schools of Hofherland, for the purpose of testing the nutritive properties of grass and hay at various stages. The experiments were instituted by the excessive demand for forage in Germany, but are not on less valuable on that account. By an elaborate series of analyses, it is shown why young grass is more nutritious than mature grass. The physiological experiment show that it is more easily digestible. Ultra grass 24 inches high contains with 0 per cent more albuminoids than grass who just six inches high, and 10 more of crude fat. The mature grass contains more woody fibre and less albuminous matter than the young grass, and, besides the it is found that the nutritious albuminoids exist in a less soluble form in hay than in young grass. Hence the difference of nutritious value and digestibility. [word illegible] and more nutritious and per digestible than mature hay.

Third. But are better farming to leave the crop of the grass to increase the next crop, than is to leave the stubbings the roots of the milk to increase the next milk crop? Fourth—If it is true as we think it is, that the entire growth left over how long before it will be able to grow two tons? A correct answer to this question tells us what interest nothing earth pays for the use of money. If the silt upon the farm [illegible] attention to fall feeding, published in the Cultivator two weeks since to found a correct idea than I have seen for a long while. I have right to expect two tons and a half per acre on the most worn out land in the old Bay State, and I submitted to [illegible] pasture—I lost in the next application or five tons the amount. With the idea in foundation in verses what Mr. Cheever tells one of the best arguments against fall feeding he has ever seen. Seth—If I could get correct, this is Mr. Stubbs and experimenting with cream if [illegible] Why not use the mineral hay. This field is will pay four or five hundred per cent for the use of it. Mr. Stuttercut [illegible] the thing of greatest difficulty is to [illegible] water to the growing crop. It is not to [illegible] uniform, that is the thing of great difficulty. New England farming is to secure a soil for the growing crop. There is no fall rain, nor no trouble in the town of Danvers in securing water enough to grow in average seasons three tons or thirty to the acre if we make other [illegible] right. All agriculturists in doing [illegible] upon the [illegible] to keep up the [illegible] of the New England farm [illegible] [illegible] may be better to [illegible] season—I may be better to [illegible] sward than to let it starve.

Seth—It by doing the fall growth [illegible] one hundred dollars worth of hay is it not better returning to it to the [illegible] or than one hundred dollars worth of fertilizers to feed the grass with. Hum! is to [illegible] the fall growth on the ground and not carry the plant food. ART AND ARTISTS.

The Paris Salon closed on Sunday, June 30. During the forty-eight days it was open 139,970 persons were admitted to its rooms, and 571,301 gratuitously. The receipts showed a considerable falling off from last year.

Mr. Bierstadt was deeply grieved when he received the information that his beautiful picture of Lake Lucerne had been cut from the frame in San Francisco. "I felt," said he, "as if a darling child of mine had died. I felt the cut as if it had gone through my heart."

George I. Brown will contribute one or two landscapes to the Chicago exhibition. Among the works he has nearly completed is a large view of Capri which is one of his most delicious pictures in the effects of distance and atmosphere and color, and a beautiful representation of Venice, one of his most popular themes.

Mr. N. E. Parker of New York, is represented at the Chicago Exhibition by a number of Paintings, the largest one is a view of one of the boldest spots on the coast of Mt. Desert.

Miss Thomson the artist who painted the Roll Call in the Crimea has suffered some what in reputation from the inevitable reaction against the enthusiastic praise which that picture received. Mr. Ruskin however, has come to her aid, and praises her last picture "Quatrebras," with the old time earnestness that he once received for Turner. He says, I never approached a picture with more unanimous prejudice against it than I did Miss Thomson's portly because I have always said that no woman could paint, and secondly because I thought what the public made such a fuss about must be good for nothing. But it is Amazon's work, this, no doubt of it, and the first fine pre-Raphaelite picture of battle we have had, profoundly interesting, and showing all manner of illustrative and realistic faculty. The sky is the most tenderly painted and with the truest outlines of cloud of all in the exhibition, and the terrific piece of gallant wrath and ruin on the extreme right, where the cuirassier is catching round the neck of his horse as he falls, and the convulsed fallen horse just seen through the smoke below, is wrought through all the truth of its frantic passion, with gradations of color and shade which I have not seen the like of since Turner's death."

In Mikael Angelo's house at Florence there was very little that was interesting to me except the house itself, writes a correspondent of a western paper. They have his crutches and slippers, which, later I have my doubts about. There there are some autograph letters and various articles of furniture, and one or two sketches (rapid models) in wax, besides some original drawings, several portraits of himself (not by himself), and a lot of things that have no particular connection with anything. The house is in a crowded part of the city, and is not wonderful in any way. I was pleased to see at the "Belle Arti" the wax models of Michael Angelo's "Night, Day and Evening." They are perhaps a foot long, and most carefully finished in every respect, all the details being wrought with the greatest delicacy. They are said to have been found walled up in his house, and disprove the popular idea that the great artist chopped his statues out of the marble without a guide for from it. These small models are finished with as much care and neatly that the "little fellows" among the sculptors would do well to follow. An artist friend says he has often wondered how he should have finished the head of the "Day," which you remember is merely blocked out. He saw exactly when he saw the model.

The art exhibition of Chicago which opens in one month in connection with the Annual Exposition promises to be one of unusual interest and attraction. The feature of the exhibition, which gives it its highest claim to superiority, and renders it an excellent school for a comparative study of American painting, is the gathering into groups of the works of different artists with plenty of room, and drapery to separate one group from another so far as is known, either in the entire committee of the exposition or to Mr. Beard or the other artists, this has never before been attempted in any collection in this country or Europe, and seems like a first bold venture. It has sometimes been done in the case of two or three artists, but never before have the works of twenty or thirty masters of painting been displayed side by side in groups supplied by themselves, hung in accordance with their own designs. John P. Safford and Wm. H. Beard are credited with the conception and execution of the idea. The easterly hall of galleries, three rooms, is entirely occupied by these groups, excepting occasionally single pictures to fill vacant spaces between them or over the doors, four to ten pictures in a group the drapery gracefully and variously arranged.

The design for the bust and pedestal of Washington Irving for erection in Central Park, as proposed by the sculptor Mr. Ward, is as follows. The head is to be twice the size of the colossal head of Irving erected in Prospect Park, Brooklyn, a few years ago. According to the sculptor, the length of the face of that bust was twice the size of life, or the two spans long, whereas the face of the proposed Central Park bust is proposed to be four times the length of size of life and the solid cubic measurement of the head will be 100 times greater than life size, or in that proportion. The pedestal is to be richly ornamented. The die is to be of Quincy granite, with four Corinthian columns of polished colored granite at the corners supporting an entablature upon which the bust will rest. The four sides of the recess of which will be placed four bronze figures in illustration of the program and characters described by Irving in his writings. The figures are to be eight feet in height. The height of the pedestal and bust is proposed is twenty-one feet.

CHANGED HIS MIND.—A subscriber to the Elizabeth Advertiser two office a few days ago and ordered his paper stopped, because he differed with Richard La Rue in the views of subscribing trade rails. He would not, he said, allow any man a right to stop the paper, and remarked, loudly, as he looked over his list—

"Did you know Jim Spaulders, down at Hat Isorable?"

"Very well," said the man

"Well, he stopped his paper just while because I don't get a ha'pth of news. I'm glad to find who did know that timothy was a good thing to graft on huckleberry bushes, and he died in less than four hours."

Lord, is that so?" said the astonished granger.

"Yes, and you knew old George Brick son, down on Eagle creek?"

"I've heard of him."

"Well said Richard, gravely, he stopped his paper because I said he was the happy father of twins, and congratulated him on his success so late in life. He fell dead within twenty minutes."

"I must cease," said the granger, "but it don't matter. I'll just cross your name, though you don't look strong, and there's a bad colic in your nose."

See here Mr. La Rue, said the subscriber, looking somewhat alarmed, if believe I must keep on another year, hanse I have to find like your paper, and come to think about it, you'd better send some allowance order he made, and as disputed, outside. That he made a very narrow escape from death

In the matter of NATHANIEL A. HAWES, Bankrupt.

IN BANKRUPTCY.

This is to give notice that a Petition has been presented to the Court, his 26th day of August, by Nathaniel A. Hawes, of Brooksville, a Bankrupt, praying that he may be decreed to have a full discharge from all his debts, except such as the Bankrupt Act, and those excepted said Petition, is ordered by the Court that a hearing be had upon the same, on the first Monday of Nov., A. D. 1875, before the Court in Portland, in said District, at 10 o'clock, A. M., and that the second meeting of the creditors of said Bankrupt be held before Charles Hamlin, Esq., Register, on the 15th day of November, 1875, and the 3d meeting of the same on the 8th day of Nov., 1875, and that notice thereof be published in the Bangor Daily Whig and Courier, and the Ellsworth American, newspapers printed in said District, once a week for three successive weeks, and once in the Weekly Bangor Courier, a newspaper published in Bangor, in said County, at least before the day of hearing, and that all persons interested in the matter may then appear at said hearing and show cause, if any they have, why the prayer of said petitioner should not be granted.

And it is further ordered by the Court that the Register cause notice to be sent by mail to all known creditors, copies of said petition and this order, directed to their places of residence as stated.

Given under my hand at Portland, this 26th day of August, A. D. 1875.

Effects of Dissipation Counteracted

A cup of cocoa or chocolate cannot be too earnestly commended to those who desire a two effects upon the system produced by late and fast living. Taken in the morning it will be found to counteract the effects of the evil habit, and will cause to indulge in them until the evil habit has become confirmed. Common sympathy would dictate to us the suggestion of a more efficient mode of counteracting these effects. There is nothing medicinal about cocoa as usually calculated to counteract the evil consequences of late hours. Speaking as Homœopathic Physicians, we have no hesitation in saying that no article can be produced, in which the [illegible] is [illegible] than cocoa, which is the [illegible] preparation of health taken by cocoa. The various complaints caused by dissipation are promptly relieved by the Diploma which are always found an excellent remedy for all disorders affecting the bowels, liver and nervous organs to which it imparts unwonted regularity and tone.

of the proceedings of Congress, the State Legislature, meetings of Agricultural Societies and other public bodies, carefully corrected Financial and Market Reports, a reliable Shipping List, original and selected Stories and Poetry, a large amount of miscellaneous and entertaining Miscellany, and a very full department of

News of This Section and the State.

In politics the paper will continue to advocate and uphold the principles of the Republican party while claiming to be independent, in the highest and best sense of the word. While fearless and outspoken in its treatment of all public questions and firmly maintaining what it believes to be right it will avoid intolerance and make no appeals to low motives and will not stoop to prejudice. The year about to open will be fruitful of political events of important bearing upon the future of the country, and it will be our aim to keep our readers thoroughly informed, and to favor such measures and policy as will best promote the welfare of all the people. The great interests of

of Maine will receive special attention and all the influence of the paper will be asserted in stimulating the growth and prosperity of our beloved State. We rapidly exclude from our columns everything of an immoral tendency, avoid sensational matter, and seek to make a thoroughly reliable paper which will find

MUST GRIN AND BEAR IT.

HE GRINS WITH JOY.

LEXINGTON, Mass., June 22, 1875.

PROF. ALPHONSE HILLER:

Dear Sir.—For the alleviation of human suffering I feel it my duty as well as pleasure to certify to the following facts in my own case.

The past spring I was sore afflicted with Sciatic Rheumatism, suffering night after night and all nights, without the least cessation, the most excruciating pains I ever knew. My doctor who prescribed in my family for over thirty years, to my entire satisfaction, and in whom I still have the greatest confidence, said that "medicine would do me no good—he says I must help me, that probably would, not in six or eight weeks it might leave me, in the meantime I must grin and bear it." But I was not disposed to do so, and in my desperation caught at the first article, which under the name of Quack or Patent Medicine, or any other name promised relief. It happened that this was the obtained at No 38 Hanover st., Boston, the statements accompanying directions seemed reasonable, and I determined to give it a fair trial. I took it, at the same time being without faith in its efficacy. I followed the directions, and the results were that on the third bottle I was sensible that it was acting powerfully and favorably, and before using the fourth bottle, my pain had passed away, and I was able occasionally to grin (with joy) that I no longer have to bear them.

Yours respectfully,
WM. D. PHELPS.

We endorse the above testimony as genuine
G. C. GOODWIN & CO.,
38 Hanover Street.

My Phelps is a gentleman well and favorably known in this community, and for the past forty years has been engaged by our shipping merchants as one of the most successful captains sailing from the port of Boston. This testimony is genuine and speaks more in favor of the great merits of the

Diamond Rheumatic Cure.

This medicine is prepared by a careful, experienced and conscientious physician, and adapted to the disease of lumbering rheumatism in the prairies, in the trade and among the people. Every bottle is a strong gun to assault the foul, strength of the medicine is in highest state of purity and development, and is superior to any medicine ever compounded for the terrible complaint.

In simple cases sometimes one or two doses suffice. In the most extreme cases it is sure to give relief, in from four to five bottles. By the most efficient and simple remedy, hundreds of dollars are saved to those who can least afford to throw away, as such it is by far the purchase of useless prescriptions.

The medicine is for sale at all druggists throughout the United States and Canada. It is hoped that your druggist has not got it in stock, ask him to send for it to any of the wholesale druggists in Boston, New York, Worcester, Providence, Portland, Bangor and other places.

THE NEW REMINGTON
SHUTTLE SEWING MACHINES,

Manufactured at the Celebrated REMINGTON ARMORY, Ilion, N. Y., are the Latest and Best.

THE REMINGTON SEWING MACHINES are rapidly becoming favorites, wherever introduced. While it is not our purpose to claim for any sewing machine, we do claim that the REMINGTON is so near perfection as to overcome all the principal objections and supplies the desideratum long sought after, and has long been sought after by probably every Sewing Machine Company, the two obtained in the REMINGTON, namely, the noiseless, rotary, feed, stitch on all kinds of goods, coarse or fine, without the use of the Wheel Cogs, Cranks, Rotary Cams, or Levers; and sometimes also, regular feed motion. The perfection of Design and Manufacture, and the beauty of finish of the most speedy, the most durable in the market.

Manufacturers of Clothing, Shoes, etc., etc., will find in this machine a most desirable machine, which is superior to all others.

All kinds of Second hand Machines exchanged and sold on commission. Most reasonable terms. Perfect satisfaction guaranteed.
